It is widely known that statins severely deplete your body's natural levels of CoEnzyme Q10 (CoQ10), which is very dangerous. A Columbia University study found that within 30 days, your levels of CoQ10 can be decreased by half.

Not only does CoQ10 help your heart, it boosts cellular energy throughout your body and fights fatigue. In addition, CoQ10 helps to reduce muscle pain and weakness, which are the most commonly reported side effects of cholesterol-lowering drugs.

Easy to Get DHA Into Kids

Karen M. shares:

"My kids like all the Shaklee chewable vitamins, and ask for them. I started using the Mighty Smart Chews as soon as they were available and now that is the first thing they ask for each morning. I decided to try them myself and I think they taste just like a tangelo without all of the mess. I have been looking for a good option to get DHA into my kids (that they will eat) for a long time now and I am psyched that it is here."

STROKE - SEIZURES - DEMENTIA

Back in 2000, I left work and went to the emergency room because of numbness that was progressing down my left arm. They eventually came up with a diagnosis that I have a genetic disorder that makes me prone to strokes, seizures and progressive dementia.

I have a genetic disorder that makes me prone to strokes, seizures & progressive dementia.

I had my first seizure the next morning in the hospital and my first stroke about six months later. My mental capacity started to lessen as well with each additional seizure.

Looking back, I can see how my job performance was slowly suffering as was my social life. I had another stroke which affected my balance and I ended up having to walk with a cane. My world was getting smaller and smaller as the seizures and strokes continued. The damage to my mental state was devastating. I couldn't hold a decent conversation — I would simply sit silently and just listen to others. I would cry in pure frustration, knowing it was only going to get worse. I spent most of my time, home alone, not wanting to do anything or deal with anyone.

Last year my sister, Susan, met Julie Young and was introduced to Shaklee. Susan tried some of the products, including MindWorks. She told me about it and how it was helping her. I then gave it a try.

After about 3 weeks on MindWorks, I started noticing a difference. I was feeling more alert, and more positive. I remembered more, was speaking more with less difficulty. It was making a major difference. Susan would say, "you went from not talking at all to non-stop talking!"

I am truly grateful for MindWorks, and for what all the other Shaklee products are doing for me. After my third stroke about 6 years ago, I had to quit teaching Sunday School ... I am very happy to say I am back teaching the 5 and 6 year olds. By using MindWorks and Vivix, not only has my balance improved but July 4th I ran a 4 mile race.

MindWorks and the other Shaklee products turned my life around. I became a distributor so that I can share this amazing gift with others.

Wreaking Havoc WE OVER-CONSUME BY 5 TIMES!

We know that too much sugar is bad for our waists and our heart health, but now there's mounting evidence that high levels of sugar consumption can also have a negative effect on brain health — from cognitive function to psychological wellbeing.

A 2012 study on rats, conducted by researchers at UCLA, found that a diet high in fructose (that's just another word for sugar) hinders learning and memory by literally slowing down the brain. The researchers found that rats who over-consumed fructose had damaged synaptic activity in the brain, meaning that communication among brain cells was impaired.

Research has also found that people who eat a standard American diet that's high in processed foods — which typically contain high amounts of saturated fat, sugar and salt — are at an increased risk for developing depression, compared to those who eat a whole foods diet that's lower in sugar.

It's a risk factor for age-related cognitive decline and dementia. A growing body of research suggests that a sugar-heavy diet could increase risk for developing Alzheimer's disease.
